

Congratulations! You've invested consistently for 6 months in a row.

Dear Debra Borchert,

To make informed investing decisions, you can visit our Research section. Investigate and analyze Stocks, ETFs and IPOs by reading the latest news, past performance, financial reports, analyst information, and articles.

 Visit ShareBuilder Research

We appreciate your business. We strive to continually improve your ShareBuilder experience and hope you continue to take advantage of our services.

Thank you for selecting ShareBuilder. Keep up the good work!

Sincerely,

The ShareBuilder Team

ShareBuilder helps you build your future automatically — through consistent, affordable long-term

Investing Tip

Why is diversification important?

Diversification: What It Is and Why You Need It

A diversified portfolio, with positions in several industries or sectors, is less prone to being "all up" or "all down" at the same time. The portfolio "average" tends to be more stable than its components.

Diversification is one of the most recognized strategies for managing your exposure to risk.

[Read more about
Diversification](#)

Links:
Manage Your Account
Research